

ENGLISH AS AN ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE (EAL) POLICY

Introduction

The term EAL (English as an Additional Language) is used to refer to students whose main language at home is other than English.

EAL students, from complete beginners to those with considerable fluency, will have varying degrees of difficulty in accessing the full curriculum and in achieving their full potential. Research has shown that those new to English will acquire conversational fluency in two years, but will need a minimum of five years to achieve competence in academic English. Such students will need language support if they are to reach their full potential. The provision of this support fulfils the requirements of the Race Relations Act of 1976 which seeks to promote Equality of Opportunity and to eliminate discrimination in the provision of education.

This policy sets out the school's aims, objectives and strategies with regard to the needs and skills of EAL students.

A limited knowledge of English does not reflect a lack of ability or a lack of literacy in a student's mother tongue. Appreciating and acknowledging their ability in her/his own culture is crucial for her/his self-esteem.

Aims

- To welcome and value the cultural, linguistic and educational experiences that students with EAL bring to the school;
- To implement school-wide strategies to ensure that EAL students are supported in accessing the curriculum;
- To help EAL students to become confident and to acquire the English language skills they need to be able to fulfil their academic potential and become the best that they can be.

Objectives

- To assess the skills and needs of students with EAL and to provide for their needs;
- To equip teachers and teaching support staff with the knowledge, skills and resources to be able to support and monitor students with EAL;
- To monitor students' progress systematically and use the data to inform classroom management, curriculum planning and the setting of targets;
- To maintain students' self-esteem and confidence by acknowledging and giving status to their skills in their own languages.

Strategies

- The language development of all students is the responsibility of all teachers and teaching support staff;
- There will be liaison between mainstream and support departments to discuss language development within the structure of the lesson;
- Diversity will be valued and classrooms will be socially and intellectually inclusive;
- Teachers will be knowledgeable about students' abilities and needs in English and other subjects and use this knowledge to inform their curriculum planning, classroom teaching and pupil grouping;
- Support will be provided in various forms, including induction classes for complete beginners in English and in-class support and work in small groups, where appropriate;
- A range of strategies will be employed within each lesson to reinforce understanding and meaning so as to develop language in context.

Teaching and Learning

In order to ensure that the school meets the needs of EAL students, staff will:

- assess the pupil's fluency level as soon as possible;
- show differentiated work for EAL students;
- have high expectations, expect students to participate in all classroom activities/tasks;
- monitor progress carefully and ensure that EAL students are set appropriate and challenging tasks, including the setting of appropriate extended tasks;
- recognise that EAL students need more time to process answers and to complete extended work;
- allow students to use their mother tongue to explore concepts when appropriate;
- give newly- arrived students time to absorb English, bearing in mind that there is a "silent period" when those new to the language understand more English than they use;
- group students so that EAL students hear good models of English;
- use collaborative learning techniques.
- encourage involvement of parents.
